MEMORANDUM

The two cases captioned above, like several others filed by Eric S. Bowker, a prisoner of a federal corrections institution in Pennsylvania, represent an abuse of the judicial process.<sup>1</sup> Each complaint seeks monetary relief under the Federal Tort Claims Act, 28 U.S.C. §§ 2671-2680, and asserts that employees of unidentified federal agencies committed unidentified wrongs against Mr. Bowker at unidentified times. Neither of the complaints suggests that Mr. Bowker has met jurisdictional prerequisites to suit against the United States. Both of the complaints were filed while Mr. Bowker had numerous similar cases pending in this district.<sup>2</sup>

Since these complaints were filed, several other cases commenced by Mr. Bowker have been dismissed by this court as frivolous.<sup>3</sup> The analysis provided in those opinions applies with equal force here. The complaints in the above-captioned cases will be dismissed as frivolous. See 28 U.S.C. § 1915A(b)(1).

An appropriate order will issue.
